Oblige us by inserting the following Poem in your GAZETTE; it will appear to be one of the most finish'd Pieces of Panegyric now extant. Your humble Servants,

P. Q. R. S. and T. U.

An humble ADDRESS to that most venerable and ancient Punk, the Whore of BABYLON.

Translated from a French Original, by a zealous Protestant.

LD, toothless, pox'd, mischievous Hag of Night; Old graceless Witch, who liv'st in Virtue's Spite; Old treacherous Beldam; Burden to the Earth, Plots, Broils, and Wars from thee derive their [Birth (a)]. Old arrant Bawd, by whose destructive Trade The Lewd are sold (b), the Modest are betray'd (c). Honour thou never knew'st thou living Tomb; Discord and Murder issue from thy Womb (d). Thy Charity does like the Devil's prove, And damns the Wretches who thy Lewdness love (e). Thy livid Blood with poifinous Rage is fwell'd; Thy Breast with Gall, thy Head with Mischief fill'd: Thon ne'er of any but thyself speak'st well; And for Detraction ev'n surpassest Hell. Whoever will not by thy Tricks be flamm'd, With curs'd Assurance, thou pronouncest damn'd (f); If so, be that my Fate, I'd rather be Damn'd with the Devil, than be damn'd with thee. Perhaps kind Heav'n might pity him at last; But thou all Pity and all Grace art past. Old Brimstone Bawd, with Brandy fuming red (g), Thou mak'st a curs'd rank Brothel of thy Bed (h). Propitious to all Malice and ill Luck, Thou hast a Teat to give the Devil tuck (i). Damn'd Witch, thou doest in Magic far excell Medea, and the blackest Fiends of Hell.

(a) Aluding to their holy Orders of Knighthood, as that of Malta, originally of Jerusalem, solemnly sworn at their Installation, to be at perpetual War with the Infidels, 'till they extirpate them Root and Branch.—The famous Crusades.—Of their Plots, see the English History, in the Reigns of Elizabeth and James I.

(b) In the public licens'd Stews at Rome.

(c) Youth of both Sexes artfully decoy'd into Monasteries and Nunneries, to perpetrate Wickedness under a Cloak of Devotion.

(d) The many cruel Persecutions and bloody Wars, so destructive to Mankind, under Pretence of pious Zeal to promote the Christian Faith.

(e) Many palpable Crimes are accounted necessary Virtues by the Roman Doctrine, such as breaking an Oath, Perjury, Murder, &c. for the Advantage of the Church, and the Extirpation of Heresy.

(f) This holy Church damns all Heretics indiscriminately; that is, all Christians dissenting from her.

(g) The red Hats and E. of the Cardinals.

(h) Licensed Stews and Vudy-Houses at Rome, which pay a Part of the Pope's Revenue.

(i) Their Sentence of Excommunication, or pretended Power of making over Souls to the Devil.

Thy Gorgon Locks, the soft relenting Heart, Can soon to flinty Cruelty convert.

Bloated and swell'd with rank bigotted Rage; With Murder thou hast stain'd each bleeding Age (k); Thou Scarlet Whore, with Vice delighted still, With Virtue griev'd, thy Eyes black Rheums distill.

Thy only Sighs are vented at thy Bum, Outstink a Carrion, and outroar a Drum (l).

OLD monstrous Hag, of matchless dreadful Kind;

Thou the three Furies in one Body join'd.

Satan, outdone by thee, does envious grow,

And longs to burn thee in Revenge below.

Dilembling Witch, whose Tongue still muttering dares

Mock frowning Heav'n, with t. y. unhallow'd Prayers (m).

No bold bad Sprite, with Satan's borrow'd Force,

Pretend'st to turn a River's rapid Course;

With Spells to Palene's fright the hab'ring Moon,

And darken quite the blushing Sun at Noon (n).

BASE murd'ring Sorceress, with trebleless Heart,

On Innocence thou trift thy cursed Art.

Pity thou slight'st, by Pity thou'rt abhor'd,

And more deserv'd a Faggot than a Coid (o).

Virtue thou'lt condemn'd to cruel Flames,

Fires, Tortures, Racks, are thy beloved Games (p);

Thy cruel Heart with Rancour has it's Load,

Natural to-thee, as Poison to a Todd.

THE worst of Mischiefs, Guide to endles Death,

Who scatter'd Plagues with thy contagious Breath,

Canst thou expect unpunish'd to remain;

And for each Crime to 'scape a double Pain?

Millions against thee will in Judgment rise,

And pour for Vengeance their repeated Cries (q);

Those whom thy Arts to lawless Flames decoy'd,

Shall be below to burn thy Soul employ'd (r);

But thou'rt the worst of Hells, for impious Deeds;

T'other perhaps in Punishments exceeds.

Prepare! prepare for it's vindictive Pains,

There to be drag'd in everlasting Chains!

Tremble, and loudly to the Mountains call,

That they may rush, and hide thee with their Fall.

For still thy latter Sins thy first excell,

And living on, thou'l grow too bad for Hell.

DAMN'D Harridan, with reeking Lust more drunk,

Than M. Silene, that great Imperial Punk.

Ne'er tir'd or fatigued, thou out-does her more,

Than she out-did the utmost Stint of Whore.

(k) The many Schisms and Persecutions of the Church, in different Centuries.

(l) The Pope's Anathemas, Excommunications, and threatening Bulls.

(m) Adoration of Saints, Images, Relicts, and the Popery of the Mass Service.

(n) Their pretended Miracles, exorcising Farces, and foolish Tricks with Holy Water.

(o) Alluding to the Cordeliers, an Order of Monks who forgo a Girdle wear a Hempen Rope.

(p) That mild and merciful Tribunal the Holy Court of Inquisition.

(q) John Hus, and many other well-meaning Men, perfidiously murdered for their Opinions.

(r) Monks, Friars, and Nuns, constrained to live in Obscurity, by the Church Policy.
